

Names: _____

Oral report feedback and grade sheet	Yes	Some what	No	Score
Introduction (10%)
Is the introduction brief, and does it orient audience to the topic?
Does the introduction frame the study within the context of ecological literature?
Are the objectives or questions, hypotheses, and predictions clearly stated?
Methods (15%)
Do the methods explain the study system (e.g, study site) and study organisms?
Do the methods explain how the hypothesis was tested?
Do the methods give sample sizes and types of data analysis?
Are the methods brief but specific enough to understand what was done?
Results (15%)
Are the results explained clearly?
Are the data clearly summarized in tables and/or figures, without excessive information?
Are the tables or figures easy to read, with axes or rows and columns labeled?
Are the results of statistical tests presented and clearly explained?
Discussion (20%)
Are the data interpreted reasonably in light of the hypothesis?
Are comparisons made with other studies?
Are appropriate conclusions given, that are supported by the data?
Is the significance of the study explained?
Clarity (20%)
Is a clear train of thought followed?
Do the speakers talk slowly and repeat key ideas?
Are the speakers able to answer questions about their study?
Mechanics (20%)
Have the speakers practiced so that the talk flows well?
Does each group member contribute to the talk?
Can speakers' voices be heard throughout the room?
Are all special terms, jargon explained?
Does the talk fit the time limit?
Total %
Total Points out of _____

Comments: